COMMENTS FROM THE TOWN MANAGER'S OFFICE

The 1966 tax bills will be mailed around Monday or Tuesday of next week. The bills might have been ready a week or two earlier but there were some delays that could not be helped. The rate for this year was announced a few weeks ago so everyone should have a pretty good idea what their bill will be this year. I don't believe that it is a hardship to most people if they get their tax bills by the middle of August.

There have been quite a few people in to make partial payments on their 1966 taxes. Some people receive income from special sources during the summer and they like to reduce their bill to a smaller balance.

There are towns and cities in Maine that have a tax club plan. The bill of the taxpayer is estimated sometime during the spring. The bill is then divided by the number of months left in the year. The taxpayer then makes monthly payments to the tax collector. A small adjustment is sometimes necessary. I would be glad to figure a payment schedule for anyone. Although there is a small amount of extra book work involved, we are glad to accept partial payments at any time.

The deadline of August 15, for having junked cars removed is drawing near. Several have started disposing of the vehicles and others have indicated that they plan to before Aug. 15. This is the first real effort to clean up the junked cars in several years. The law that is being enforced in a state statute and the municipal officers intend to follow the matter to the end. Responsibility for enforcing the law is up to the municipal officials, and all levels of law enforcement officers. There is one case where it is going to cost the man well over one hundred dollars to comply with the law and he has said that he will start as soon as possible. If he can take care of his situation, you can rest assured that the 3, or 4 or 5 car junk yards will be taken care of.

Michael Houlahan

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gordon and Duane, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Littlefield, Randall, Cathy, Laurie, Sharon and Richard, Jr., attended a family reunion at St. Albans, Maine, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eichel (Mary Wentzell) and family have returned to New Jersey after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wentzell, Songo Pond, and other relatives in Maine.

CLEARING OF SITE FOR S. A. D. 44 HIGH SCHOOL STARTED BY POLAND FIRM

The work of clearing the site for the new S. A. D. 44 junior-senior high school began Wednesday afternoon. The site preparation contract was awarded to P. E. Dunn, Inc., of Poland, at a meeting of the District Directors Monday evening. The Dunn firm submitted a low bid of $5,200 for the project.

According to terms of the bid, work is to be completed by Sept. 1, in ample time to permit actual construction of the building to start when that contract is awarded.

In other business pertaining to the school, under consideration Monday, were the presentation of recommendations for certain alterations in the building progress prints. The recommendations have come as a result of conferences between staff members and Curriculum Supervisor Ralph Ryder.

PLANNING BOARD MEETS

The Planning Board of Bethel met at the Selectmen's Office on Wednesday evening with Lewis Lulka of the James W. Sewall Company of Old Town.

A discussion of the study of the economic base and existing land use was held by the group. These studies are a part of a series of surveys by the Old Town Council made preliminary to any recommendation by the Sewall Company for a Comprehensive Town Plan.

A background of the economy in the area was explored together with an analysis of labor force, agriculture, commerce and recreational recreation and tourism. Other potentials of the area were discussed.

Current and previous uses of the land in the urban and rural areas were explored.

Present at the meeting besides Mr. Lulka were: Mrs. Ruth Ames, Norma Brown, Earlin Paine, of the Planning Board; John Phillips of the Maine Department of Economic Development; Town Manager Michael Houlahan and James Houlahan and John Brown of the Board of Selectmen.

At a hearing held prior to the regular Planning Board meeting, the board had no objection to a proposed mobile home park on Bridge Street. Their approval had been sought by Richard Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Luntz and son have been guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Allen Luntz for four days.

DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES FOR STATE SENATE TO ATTEND WORKSHOP, AUG. 6

St. to Senator Floyd L. Harding
(D) of Presque Isle, announced last Saturday that all Democratic candidates for the State Senate have been invited to attend a workshop meeting on Saturday, August 6, in Augusta.

The workshop leader in the Senate in the 1964 Maine Legislature said the meeting will be held at 10 a. m. at the Holiday Inn.

Harding and Senate President Charles D. Reed, Jr., (D) of Winthrop, has accepted an invitation to act as general chairman of the workshop session.

The program will include a discussion of campaign planning, budget considerations, publicity coordination and techniques.
There also will be a forum on the accomplishments of the Democratic 1964 Maine Legislature and the major issues to be stressed in the coming campaign.

If Harding and the workshop session will be held to assist Senate candidates in working substantive campaigns based on the major issues. The session will feature a number of talks by party leaders and major candidates.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMER

From Mrs. Leslie Feltman, Lincoln, N.D.: "I remember when the "flu epidemic" of 1918 hit the country. There were about 618 people in our town. Eleven people died in one week. Dad used his car to drive the doctor almost day and night after "Dad's" team played out. The tragedies they saw were terrible and I particularly remember how sadly Dad told Mother of one family. The family consisted of parents and six children. Dad and the doctor were there the night the mother died and Dad had to lay her out for burial.

So many people were sick and dying that the undertaker could not keep up and help could not be found. Later, the father of the six children died, and all of the children were sick. The oldest, a twelve-year-old, took care of the youngest, a year old, until they went to live with three families of relatives.

Dad was not a young man and, when he could go no longer, an Army doctor was sent in by the Government to help him. He was a younger man, but he insisted on having his rest.

Our high school principal was a woman, Mrs. Phelps. When things got so bad school was closed, and her assistant went from house to house helping wherever they could—and neither of them got the flu.

BETHEL CELEBRATES TODAY AND YESTERDAY

As the 1966 Mollycckett Day celebration is concluded, it is interesting to reminisce about the big Sesquicentennial celebration of thirty-five years ago. The following excerpt from a paper dated Aug. 3, 1931 tells of the big event: "It is estimated that between 7,000 and 10,000 people witnessed the celebration of the last Indian Raid in Maine at Bethel, Monday, Aug. 2d. To start things off, there was a beautiful parade over a mile long. It is said to have been the best ever witnessed."

The Military band from Portland, a 50 piece band and the Fife and Drum Corps from Rumford furnished music. An air circus scheduled to be staged by the R. and D. Air service just before dinner time was cancelled due to a "low ceiling". Loral aviator, Carmelo Onofrio, flew over the village, during the afternoon.

Later came the re-enactment of the Indian raid on the settlers. The characters were announced by Rev. L. A. Edwards (then minister of the West Parish Congregational Church) who also gave a brief history of the raid. He named two characters in particular, C. C. Bryant, the only living member of the same raid 50 years before, and Estlin Warren, the great-great-granddaughter of Segar who was one of the first settlers of Bethel. This was followed by a poem read by Clarence Hall.

The Indians next raided the cabin and burned it. They took prisoners who were later rescued by the settlers. Fred Clark played the part of the settler burned at the stake and it was very thrilling. The remainder of the pageant cast was as follows: Clark's wife was impersonated by Mrs. Ruth Carter, the granddaughter, Chauncey Bryant, settlers, Ender Whitman, Trafton Bartlett, Edson Warren, Dale Thurston, Indian Chief, Hugh Thurston, Indian, Edward Lyon, John Howe Jr. E. L. Brown, Eldridge Berry, Wilbert Bartlett, Norris Brown, Paul Brown, Louis Van Ken Kenkoven, Clarence Bennett, William Bartlett, Albert Sumner, Robert Littlehale, Ashby Tibbets and John Twardilo. ## SEN. MUSKIE REPORTS

In May, I introduced The Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1966 to enable greater cooperation in personnel matters between the various levels of government to improve the administration of Federal grants and programs. It would strengthen the public services of the states and their localities.

I am convinced that the success of Federal programs largely depends on whether or not we recognize and overcome the critical in State and local government manpower shortages.

The Federal government must undertake greater responsibility to provide financial, technical and other forms of assistance to the states and localities to help them mount a broad attack on this problem. Although most of the recent Federal aid legislation provides the funds necessary to carry out these goals, the job of implementation falls to the

We must produce almost everything in this country — EXCEPT CHARACTER

It used to be that when you wanted something, you worked to earn it. Now you stage a riot to get it given to you at someone else's expense.

If your father or grandfather lost his job, he took whatever work he could get, and he went (probably walked miles) to where there was work—any honest work—being done. Now hordes of "clients" refuse a job unless it is to their liking, and they demand the job be brought to them in their community.

This nation was built by immigrants (beginning in the 1800's and earlier) who struggled here for opportunity, and would have earned the false idea of "something for nothing." Now it seems to be an almost universal trend all-too-often the only ambition.

It used to take a lifetime of grueling work and scrimping for a family or a country to earn a little surplus, a taste of security. Now mobs of stupid "students" and whole "emerging nations" demand they be given it, out of your earnings and with no effort on their part.

"Minority groups" all over the earth seem to think the world owes them everything they want. So vicious destructiveness makes necessary higher taxes to pay for more police to protect decent citizens, higher taxes for playgrounds and parks which hoodlums promptly make unsafe; higher taxes for schooling for gangs who don't seem to want or are unable to be educated. The minority groups whose rights no one seems to consider are the taxpayers and decent citizens—who may have been pampering evil too long.—(advertisement of Warner & Swasey, Cleveland.)

Just Captain, Edmund Smith, Phillip Chapman, Alton Hutchinson, Rev. Roy Dabell, Roy Hamlin, Sherman Greenleaf, Earl Williamson, Elton Daley and Robert Sanborn, nearby settler, who gave the alarm, Leslie Davis.

Besides the parade and pageant there was much doing during the day on the midway and plenty of music coming from the quarters of the Fifth Infantry band. In the evening dancing was enjoyed at the pavilion built especially for the occasion.

States, the counties, the cities, and towns. However, State and local governments are having trouble attracting and holding professional, managerial, and technical personnel. These governmental units will undoubtedly experience even greater difficulties in the future.

This legislation deals directly with three major hurdles confronting State and local governments in recruiting and holding qualified employees:

(1) The Merit System in Grant Aid Programs. There is a definite relationship between attracting and retaining competent public administrators and the presence of a merit system. Provisions of the Intergovernmental Personnel Act are based on this relationship and require that to receive Federal funds under any grant program, personnel engaged in its administration must be employed under a merit system meeting Federal standards.

(2) Overall Personnel Administration. The Intergovernmental Personnel Act of 1966, in the President's words, "develops a creative federalism to test the wonderful diversity of our institutions and peoples to solve the problems, fulfill the dreams of the American people."

20 SECONDS WITH THE NAZARENE GIVE LAVISHLY — LIVE ABUNDANTLY

The more you give, the more you get — The more you laugh, the less you fret — The more you do unselfishly, The more you live abundantly. The more of everything you share, The more you'll always have to spare — The more you love, the more you'll find That life is good and friends are kind. For only what we give away Enriches us from day to day.

Illustration—State and local resources for public personnel administration have not kept pace with the growth of the programs they administer. The inadequate support of personnel planning and operations has left many personnel agencies short of needed professional personnel including job analysts and training staff.

The Intergovernmental Personnel Act recognizes these needs and attempts to come to grips with these problems. Under this Act, Federal grants would be authorized to help States strengthen their systems of personnel administration, provide State personnel services to local government, and stimulate projects for the improvement of personnel administration in larger cities.

(3) Training—Linked to an improved merit system and efficient personnel management is the need for more and better training opportunities after appointment to a public service position. Federal agency training programs would be opened up to State and local personnel in counterpart agencies. A grant-in-aid program for in-service training of State and local employees would be established. It would hopefully encourage expanded efforts to develop training programs on a regional basis.

MOLLYCKETT DAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Bethel's 1966 Mollyckett Day was met with such remarks as outstanding, elegant, spectacular and unique! From the very beginning of the day, with the field events, spectators witnessed an array of events which captivated the attention of all. This year's parade was probably the largest and most inclusive of all parades held in recent years. The auction, food booths, antique exhibit, art show, game party, supper and dance all seemed to show peak receipts. There were rides and activities for the children and cultural exhibits for adults all day long.

A preliminary report indicates that this was an extremely successful venture on the part of the Bethel Health and Service Council. The proceeds from Mollyckett Day will greatly help the Health Council in its programs for better community health and emergencies. Many of our townspeople have witnessed the well-baby clinics, polio clinics, and family aid in times of emergency which are typical of the Health Council. The Mollyckett Day success means that the Council will be able to continue its charitable work during the next year.

The chairman of the day's affairs, Rev. Donald Hess, indicated that the cooperation of citizens in the endeavor was outstanding and efficient. Perhaps the best indication of the day's success is the following report of net receipts and expenses:

FORMER T. OF M. STUDENT IS AUTHOR OF READER'S DIGEST ARTICLE

Dr. Louis Bates Ames who attended the University of Maine from 1923 to 1933, is the author of an article which appears in the August issue of The Reader's Digest.

Dr. Bates & his co-authors of the article "Your Child May Be in the Wrong Grade" (Editorial) are big and Ames were associates of the late Dr. Arnold Gesell at the famed Yale Child Study Center.

Dr. Bates & Ames met Gesell in 1932 after his retirement from Yale. They founded the Child Study Institute of the University of Maine to continue his work.

The article in The Reader's Digest discusses the results of an extensive study of some 1,000 children through Gesell's growth charts. It shows that many children are placed in the wrong grade and that a great many children would benefit if they were held back a year.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION TO OPEN BIDS FOR BRIDGE CONSTRUCTION IN COUNTY

Bids will be opened by the State Highway Commission on Wednesday, August 17, for the construction of bridges in Rumford and Greenwood.

One of the Rumford projects calls for the widening of Prospect Avenue Bridge at the foot of Falls Hill. The work will reduce the sharp curve in U. S. Route 2 at the junction of Bridge Street and Prospect Avenue by widening the 23-foot span on the east or downstream side. The improvement will extend along U. S. 2 for 370 feet plus a short section of Prospect Avenue. The intersection will be modernized with the construction of traffic islands and the reconstructed area paved with bituminous concrete.

The other Rumford project calls for the replacement of the outmoded wooden deck structure on the Concord Pond Road where it crosses the Concord River. The new bridge will be a modern 32-foot steel and concrete span with a roadway width of 20 feet. The new crossing will be 100 feet downstream from the old bridge in order that a sharp curve in the present road may be eliminated. The approaches to the new bridge will be constructed for a total distance of about 700 feet. The completed highway will have a 29-foot bituminous treated traveled way and 4-foot gravel shoulders.

Britton's Iron Bridge on Route 219 in Greenwood will be replaced with a modern 34-foot reinforced concrete span. The new structure will have a 20-foot roadway. The grade will be raised out of the bridge to take the dip out of the road and the alignment will be improved east of the crossing to eliminate a hazardous curve. The approaches to the new bridge will be reconstructed for a distance of 650 feet, and the completed highway will have a 24-foot bituminous treated traveled way and 4-foot gravel shoulders.

Bethel and vicinity. Word has been received of the death of Frank Abbott of Waterville, Maine. His daughter, Mrs. Ronald Willard (Joan) Abbott, was a former second grade teacher at the Ethel Blake School.

Vernon Bush of Lewiston, Me. was injured while working on a road job in North Bethel Saturday. He suffered hand and chest cuts from a chain saw he was operating. Taken to the hospital for treatment, he was released Sunday morning.

IN AND ABOUT BETHEL

David Thompson left Tuesday for Keewadin Camp, Timagami, Ontario, where he will be the guest of Howard Chivers, owner-director, for two weeks. It is interesting to note that Gayle Foster, former Gould teacher, is celebrating his fiftieth year as a staff member and business manager at this Canadian camp.

CARD OF THANKS

WATER POLLUTION MOST NOTICEABLE AT THIS TIME OF YEAR

This time of year when the streams and ponds are low and waterflow is at a minimum, water pollution is particularly noticeable.

Along some shorelines there is a thick growth of yellow-green algae which is not only unsightly to the eye but sometimes to the nose as well. The accumulation of excessive water-pollution growth, particularly algae, has become increasingly objectionable in recent years as the water pollution problem has worsened.

Most of the algae growth is attributable to pollution. In proper amounts it is a desirable and necessary factor in the food chain of water life. But as a result of man's domestic and industrial activities, fertilized and mineralized nutrients have been introduced into the water causing a fast and undesirable proliferation of algal bloom.

Serious problems with algae growth have been noted throughout the nation and it is most obvious in rivers which run through urban and industrial areas. The Connecticut River has been singled out as high in national algal counts. Many other New England rivers are doubtless just as bad.

Algal bloom serves as something of a yardstick to measure pollution. It usually means the presence of large quantities of nitrates, phosphates or other nutrients. Since some types of algae flourish in water temperatures of 70 degrees and above, it can also reflect the heating effect that industrial uses have on water.

Excessive growth upsets the ecological balance in the water environment. It can prevent the energy-giving rays of the sun from penetrating the water and can use up too much of the available oxygen in the water at the expense of other life. This is one of the reasons why polluted water is an unfavorable environment for fish.

A drive toward prevention is needed. Industries should seek new processes and try to develop products which would minimize disposal of nutrients. Waste treatment plants can strive for better techniques for achieving nitrogen and phosphorus removal.

The Environmental Pollution Panel of the President's Science Advisory Committee noted a year ago that much more research is needed in this area before we can arrive at effective control of algal bloom. If we can, it will result in a livable environment for many of our streams, rivers, lakes and ponds throughout the country.
